LOS ANGELES (March 31, 2026) — Marking 100 years of music legend Miles Davis, Lexus and award-winning artist Laufey have unveiled the Blue In Green Edition RZ, a one-of-one custom electric vehicle inspired by Laufey's reimagined interpretation of Davis' iconic composition "Blue In Green" streaming now exclusively on Amazon Music.

Created as a physical companion to the song, the vehicle reflects Laufey's modern perspective on jazz while incorporating subtle design references to Miles Davis and his legendary trumpet. The result blends classic jazz heritage with contemporary artistry, translating the spirit of "Blue In Green" into a design that feels both timeless and new.

"Miles Davis' music has this timeless, atmospheric quality," said Laufey. "Seeing 'Blue In Green' translated into a physical design was surreal. We captured the feeling of the song, something classic, emotional and a little mysterious, and turned it into something that will actually move you."

"My father always created music that people could live inside of," said Erin Davis. "To see 'Blue In Green' reimagined and expressed through design like this is really special. It shows how deeply that feeling still resonates."

"At Lexus, we're always exploring how design, technology and culture can come together to create meaningful experiences," said Sara Lara, senior manager, Lexus marketing. "Collaborating with Laufey to celebrate Miles Davis' centennial was an opportunity to honor a legendary influence while showcasing a modern artistic perspective. The Blue In Green Edition RZ brings that vision to life, reflecting our approach to craftsmanship and innovation in electrified design."

The vehicle was revealed during 100 Miles, a special live event presented by Lexus and streamed globally on Twitch, where Laufey also debuted her lyrical interpretation of the track in tribute to 100 years of Miles Davis' musical legacy.

Design Inspired by Jazz
Inspired by the mood and restraint of "Blue In Green," the custom Lexus RZ translates music into motion through a series of thoughtful design elements that blend Laufey's artistic vision with subtle tributes to Miles Davis.

- Color in Motion: A custom exterior finish shifts from deep blue to green as light moves across its surface. The effect mirrors the tone and atmosphere of the song, revealing new shades from every angle.
- Tribute to Miles: Design cues throughout the vehicle draw inspiration from Miles Davis and his legendary trumpet, with brass accents appearing on the brake calipers and interior details. The cabin is finished in burgundy velvet and aged leather, evoking the look and feel of a classic instrument case.
- Laufey's Signature: Laufey's influence appears throughout the vehicle she helped curate, beginning with a custom illuminated front badge featuring her signature script "L." Inside the trunk, lyrics from her reimagined rendition of "Blue In Green" are featured as a subtle detail for fans.
- Music in the Details: In a playful final touch, when the vehicle is turned on the first few notes of Miles Davis' "Blue In Green" play, turning even the smallest interaction with the car into a musical element.

The Blue In Green Edition RZ reflects Lexus' broader vision for electrification, where design and technology converge to create experiences that build an emotional connection.

"Blue in Green" Reimagined by Laufey Now Streaming
Originally released on Miles Davis' 1959 landmark album Kind of Blue, "Blue In Green" remains one of the most celebrated works in jazz history. Now, new fans can be inspired by the classic tune as Laufey adds her own original lyrics and signature vocal style.

Released as an Amazon Music Original track, Laufey's reimagined version of "Blue In Green" is now streaming exclusively on Amazon Music.

Lexus' 100 Miles program is among the initiatives marking the official Miles Davis Centennial celebrations, spearheaded by the Miles Davis Estate and global independent music company Reservoir.
